Bourbon Circuit Court.

Tuesday in Circuit Court the case of the Burley Tobacco Society against the Louisville & Nashville railroad company for damages in the sum of $50,000 alleged to have been sustained as a result of the fire which on November 21, 1910 destroyed tobacco of the plaintiff which was stored in warehouses in Millersburg, was entered into.

The petition alleged that through the carelessness and negligence of the defendant company in failing to have their engines equipped with spark arresters or the negligent adjustment of said spark arresters, if any was used, that a spark from a passing engine belonging to and operated by said company ignited the building in which a vast quantity of tobacco was stored, causing the same to be entirely destroyed. Approximately $48,000 worth of tobacco was stored in the warehouses at the time.

Col. John R. Allen, of Lexington, R. C. Talbott and Claude M. Thomas, of Paris, represented the plaintiffs, while Judge Louis McQuown, of Frankfort, and E. M. Dickson were attorneys for the defendant company.

Wednesday morning the plaintiff rested and the remainder of the day's session was taken up with the evidence of the railroad company.

Two large trunks and a wooden box contained the exhibits for the plaintiff, while the defense resorted to the exact mesh or spark arrester used on the engine, whose failure to work is alleged to have resulted in setting fire to the building in which the tobacco was stored.

At 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the defense rested, and the Burley Tobacco Society, by way of rebuttal, introduced several witnesses as to the custom of engines approaching Millersburg from Paris, under steam or "puffing" as it is generally known, after which the court instructed the jury. Judge Sandidge said that he would allow each side two hours to present arguments to the jury.

After the arguments were concluded yesterday afternoon the case was given to the jury which after deliberating about an hour returned a verdict of $40,000 for the plaintiff.

The cases of James Vowel vs. the Louisville & Nashville railroad and Oscar Herrin against Oscar Hedges were continued until the June term of court.

Yesterday afternoon the case of James McClure vs. J. D. McClintock was called, and the selection of a jury to try the case was begun. The case is a $50,000 damage suit for alleged slander.

The grand jury made its final report to the court yesterday morning and was discharged. Seventeen indictments were returned and bench warrants will be issued immediately and service made upon those indicted before the list is given out for publication.

To Cooperate With Health Officer

At the regular meeting of the City Council last night Dr. A. H. Keller, the City Health Officer, addressed the Board in an effort to enlist the co-operation of the Council and the members of the police force in promoting the cleanliness of the city by a vigorous campaign against alleged miscreants, who by certain practices are serving to spread disease within the city.

Dr. Keller said that the public dumps of the city and back yards throughout the town were reeking with filth and concerted and immediate action should be taken in order to avert the epidemic which now seems imminent.

The practice of hauling all refuse to the public dumps, he said was done after nightfall, and the dump in the vicinity of the public school was the most frequented. The effect he said was very noticeable and that on a recent visit to the white school he noted more than two hundred vacant seats, at direct result of the impurities emanating from the refuse, while on the other hand a visit to the colored school an hour later did not reveal a single absentee.

Mayor Hinton ordered the members of the police force to assist the Health Officer in an effort to detect the party or parties guilty of such acts and assured him of the hearty co-operation of the Council in his efforts to stamp out the infectious diseases now prevalent in the city.

The usual number of claims were allowed and building permits granted as follows: Mary E. Anderson, house on High street extension, to cost $2,300; W. C. Dodson, residence on Cypress street, $300; G. C. Thompson, residence with slate roof on Pleasant street to cost $3,100.

Warrants Issued Charge Bootlegging.

Warrants were issued Wednesday afternoon at Georgetown for seven men, five white and two colored, on the charge of bootlegging. Some of the men for whom the warrants were sworn out are among the best known men in the city. Those arrested are: G. W. Lancaster, proprietor of the Lancaster Hotel, and former City Treasurer, and one of the wealthiest men in Georgetown; Eugene Stone, Virgil McKnight, Will Ingram and Andrew Fluk, and two negroes, Jack Shores and Minor Lewis.

The trial of the men has been set for this morning. The issuance of the warrants caused a sensation in Georgetown.
